WVAD, WVCDHH, and WVSDB Collaborates Together at the WV State Fair on August 19, 2016

By John Burdette

On Friday, August 19, 2016, West Virginia Association of the Deaf (WVAD) collaborated with the West Virginia Commission for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing (WVCDHH) and West Virginia Schools for the Deaf and the Blind (WVSDB) at the West Virginia State Fair in Lewisburg, WV.

We each had an exhibition booth that provided outreach services and resources to deaf adults and families of students who are deaf, hard of hearing, visually-impaired, and blind.

We would like to thank everyone that came and stopped by our booths. We hope to make this successful collaboration an annual event. 🐼

John Burdette (President), Veronda Harrison (Treasurer), and Larry Hubbard (Trustee) attending the booth at the WV State Fair.

Welcome to our Autumn newsletter!

Now that summer has gone, we can look forward to the different harvest activities, such as going out to festivals, pumpkin patches, hayrides, and corn mazes; making apple butter; and hunting.

Forty (40) counties in West Virginia were affected by flooding that happened on June 22-23, 2016. Many of us saw the aftermath from the flooding that destroyed many homes and businesses; roads were also destroyed or collapsed. West Virginia Association of the Deaf (WVAD) shared important information or updates from DHHR, FEMA, etc., that was posted by the West Virginia Commission for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing (WVCDHH).

WVAD, WVCDHH, and West Virginia Schools for the Deaf and Blind (WVSDB) collaborated together for the first time at the WV State Fair in Lewisburg, WV. (See story on page 1.)

With the recent incident between deaf and hard of hearing communities and law enforcement, WVAD still have current Communication Access Visor cards. Please contact one of the WVAD board members to get a Communication Access Visor card for your vehicle. This will help reduce miscommunication between deaf and hard of hearing communities and the law enforcement.

WVAD has partnered with Kroger's Community Reward Program. This is a program where our organization receives 0.5% donation from Kroger every time you purchase groceries in any of their stores using your rewards card at no additional cost to you! If you have registered your Kroger's rewards card on line and chose West Virginia Association of the Deaf, you would need to go in the Kroger's website and choose West Virginia Association of the Deaf again and every year after that in the month of September. See page 5 for instructions.

Please save the date August 3-5, 2017, to attend the WVAD Biennial Conference at Glade Springs Resort nearby Beckley, WV. Our conference theme is "Collaborating Leads to Creating Connections Together." Please see the registration combo form on page 10, along with lodging information on page 13. It is also posted on the WVAD website. We hope you will attend our conference!

I want to update everyone on events that has happened and will be happening in West Virginia soon.

- Second Annual West Virginia Interpreters Retreat will be held on October 7-8, 2016, at Robert H. Mollohan Research Center in Fairmont, WV. The theme is "Stronger Together, Growing Together." The interpreters will have an opportunity to earn RID Continuing Education Unit (CEU) and WV Department of Education (WVDE) Clock Hours. Check the link for more information at <https://pierpont.augusoft.net/>.
- On December 10, 2016, WVAD will be hosting a Christmas party at Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) in Clarksburg, WV. See our announcement/directions on page 9 for more information.

A quick reminder for those who have not paid for expired membership (see page 23 for membership form), please send the form and payment to our Membership Coordinator, Larry Hubbard. WVAD accepts debit and credit cards for membership fees, etc. We are currently accepting Visa, Mastercard, and Discover. If you are not a member of WVAD, please join. If you have any questions about membership, please contact Larry Hubbard, Membership Coordinator. Your support and dues help keep WVAD going. This would be a good way to give someone a membership as a gift.

In closing, Election Day is getting closer! If you are not a registered voter, register today! You must register before October 18, 2016, before the election. Your vote could make a big difference on November 6th. For more information on registering, please check out <http://www.sos.wv.gov/elections/current/Pages/VoterFAQs.aspx>.

Warmly,

John W. Burdette

WVAD President

Opportunity and Excitement at WVSDb

By Ed Dewitt, Review Staff, Hampshire Review, http://www.hampshirereview.com/news/article\_fc824f74-6484-11e6-a443-f7328f93f9b2.html, Posted: Wednesday, August 17, 2016, 10:19 a.m.

ROMNEY — When students arrive back at the West Virginia Schools for the Deaf and the Blind next Sunday to start the new school year, they will do so among many big changes and big ideas for both the present and the future. Staff got back to work on Monday, with a weeklong teacher in-service training.

"Our theme is literacy across the curriculum," said WVSDb Superintendent Martin Keller. "I feel that it's very important to continue to emphasize that in all classes. It's important for future success."

Focusing on literacy is just one of the core ideas being pushed in the classrooms at WVSDb, and with larger changes hopefully on the horizon, both the big and small adjustments are going to add up to a successful year.

Changes this year include a National Honor Society for both schools, with the 1st-ever induction ceremony being planned for November.

October 1st will be Homecoming, which will include a soccer tournament, as well as a dedication ceremony. The building housing the School for the Deaf has never been named. Consolidation of the elementary and secondary schools for the deaf occurred during the summer months to mirror the school set-up at the School for the Blind. The building will be named the Sevingy Academic Building in memory of long time teacher, coach, and mentor Pierre Sevingy.

Also during the month of October, WVSDb will host a regional robotics competition. FIRST LEGO League includes both a junior team at the elementary level and the one at the middle-school level. The program — for blind students — also includes what Keller calls an "exciting high-level design" competition team known as VEX.

Staff changes Keller highlighted were the addition of Michael Coleman — most recently the Special Education Director of Hampshire County Schools — returning to be principal, WVAD Quarter News, Fall 2016 and Kurt Metz as the new school neuropsychologist.

"We are very excited to have Mike on the team, and Kurt is a tremendous addition," Keller said. "Dr. Metz will work closely with both deaf and blind students and is also serving as director of the Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning," which is a new diagnostic center in the former elementary building.

"We are ready to set that up and we will be up and running in about 2 weeks," Keller said.

In addition to boosting the strength of the curriculum and focused staff development, recruitment of new students remains a focal point. While the school lost 14 Seniors to graduation last year, they have added 10 new students, keeping the enrollment right around 130 students.

"I'm doing a big push to bring new students in," Keller said. That includes a trip to the West Virginia State Fair to meet prospective parents and children. Sometimes, Keller said, it can be a tough sell, but thanks to technology it is a bit easier than it used to be.

"Some parents want to keep their children home," he said. "It can be 3 or 4 hours away for some families. I try and explain that with today's technology the distance can be easier.

"We can use videophones and parents can communicate and see their children every day. Facetime and regular phone calls are also possible. Technology is able to lessen the pain for parents by providing them the opportunity of being able to see and communicate with their children every day."

Balancing the responsibility of working with parents and students on an individual and classroom basis is a stark contrast to trying to improve the facility on a grand scale, but those duties go hand in hand for Keller as he continues to improve the experience at WVSDb. Along with his Executive Assistant, Dr. Ann Getty, Keller has made a push to get the campus prepared for the larger changes that may come when and if the $15 million funding the school has requested is approved by the State Legislature.

"The State Board told me to keep pressing on," Keller said. "This fall I want to designate a day for the school to host the Legislature to orient them to (See In the News on page 20) the school and its services. I want them to meet the students and have them stay locally," he said.

Some other longer-term goals that will get off the ground this fall include:

- Working with Michelle Burnett and Eileen Johnson in the county Economic Development Office to evaluate the possibility of establishing a childcare center in the former elementary school building.
"The vision is to provide a program that would offer a degree in early childhood education," Keller said. "The students taking classes would then have exposure to the children from the get-go. It would essentially be a childcare training hub. Those children would be exposed to sign language as well, which would be a huge advantage for them." The center would also serve as a one-stop place for diagnostic testing for both blind and deaf children, working closely with the State Department of Education.
- The school has been connected to a green specialist that will evaluate how to improve energy use at the school. An environmental consultant is also going to be doing a study as one of the preliminary measures of the hopeful extensive renovations that could be in store for the school. Hazardous materials in the buildings and possible underground issues will be identified; both services are being completed at no cost to the school. "It's huge," Keller said. "We were told if we were going to hire someone it would cost over $100,000. It's pretty exciting."
- On September 30, the school will submit a proposal for Innovative Readiness Training through the United States Military. A list was made of the needs of the school building by building, which will be submitted to the Pentagon for review and the possibility of assignment.
"When the troops are deployed, they are doing so much more than fighting wars," Keller said. "They focus on school-building and repairs such as HVAC, plumbing, and electrical work. They need practice. We submit a wish list which will go out to units all over the country, and a unit can choose their projects based on their needs." Military units would be able to live on campus while completing the necessary work. "That's an advantage we have," Keller said. "We can provide housing." "It's not a sure bet, but it's an opportunity."

The project would provide free labor and equipment, with only the building materials being funded by the school. Kelly Surveying Company is bringing a drone to do an aerial map of the campus. With that 3D model, all of that documentation will be completed prior to the submission of the proposal.

"All of those things will hopefully have a positive influence on the IRT process," Keller said.

All of the emotions, challenges, and triumphs of the new year will begin next week, and Keller — along with his entire staff — are looking forward to getting the 2016-17 year started on the right foot.

"We are very excited," Keller said. "It's going to be good to be back." 🍂

HONEY BALSAMIC SHEET PAN CHICKEN

(Yield: 4-6; Prep Time: 10 minutes; Total Time: 1 hour 10 minutes)

1/4 cup balsamic vinegar
2 to 3 Tablespoons olive oil, divided
1 teaspoon dried thyme
1/2 teaspoon red chili flakes
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1-1/2 pounds baby red potatoes, quartered
1 pound green beans, trimmed

6 Tablespoons honey
2 cloves garlic, minced
3/4 teaspoon dried rosemary
3/4 teaspoon kosher salt
2 pounds chicken breasts
(4 each), trimmed
1 pint cherry tomatoes

1. Preheat the oven to 425 °F (175 °C).
2. In a medium bowl, combine the balsamic vinegar, honey, a tablespoon of olive oil, garlic, thyme, rosemary, chili flakes, salt, and pepper. Stir well to mix.
3. Place the chicken breasts in a resealable plastic bag and pour the marinade over the top. Seal and toss the chicken to evenly coat. Marinate for at least 30 minutes.
4. While the chicken marinates, place the potatoes and cherry tomatoes on a sheet pan. Drizzle with the remaining olive oil, season with salt and pepper, and stir to coat. Bake for 25 minutes.
5. Remove the sheet pan from the oven and toss the green beans with the potatoes and tomatoes.
6. Remove the marinated chicken breasts from the plastic bag, reserving the remaining marinade in the bag. Place the marinated chicken, evenly spaced, on top of the vegetables. Pour the marinade from the bag over the top of the chicken and vegetables.
7. Return the sheet pan to the oven. Bake for 30 to 40 minutes, periodically basting the chicken breasts with the pan juices, until the internal temperature of the chicken reaches 165 °F (74 °C).
8. Allow the chicken to rest for 5 to 10 minutes. Spoon the pan juices over the top of each chicken breast before serving.

PUMPKIN MAGIC CAKE

For the Cake:

1 box of yellow cake mix plus ingredients needed to make the cake (eggs, water, oil)

For the Pumpkin Pie:

1 15-ounce can pumpkin puree
1/2 cup heavy cream
1 cup brown sugar

1/2 cup evaporated milk
3 eggs
1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice

For the Frosting:

1 box (4 serving size) vanilla instant
pudding mix
8 oz Cool Whip, thawed

1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
1 cup cold milk

1. Preheat oven to 350 °F.
2. Prepare box of cake mix according to package instructions, then pour into a lightly greased 9"x13" cake pan. DO NOT BAKE. Set aside.
3. In another bowl whisk together the ingredients for the pumpkin pie (pumpkin, evaporated milk, cream, eggs, brown sugar, and pumpkin pie spice) until smooth. Slowly pour the pumpkin pie mixture on top of the unbaked cake mix.
4. Carefully place cake into the oven and bake for 50-60 minutes or until the center is no longer jiggly and a toothpick inserted into cake mix comes out clean. NOTE: The cake might be slightly darker than normal, but it still taste great. Let cool to room temperature.
5. To make the frosting, place the vanilla pudding mix into a large bowl, add the pumpkin pie spice, and pour in the cold milk. Whisk until combined and it starts to thicken. Gently fold in the Cool Whip until it's completely mixed. Spread on top of the cooled cake.
6. You can serve now, or chill the cake and serve when chilled. Either way tastes great. Enjoy!

NOTES:

Before baking the cake, you can place it on top of a rimmed baking sheet just in case any of the cake spills over the edge of the pan while baking. After you are done baking the cake, it may look like it did not settle into layers, but it has! After frosting the cake, top with butterscotch or chocolate chips if desired or sprinkle with pumpkin spice if desired.
